THE INSURANCE CHARITY

Supporting insurance people when they need us most

Life can be challenging, and sometimes we need a helping hand. The Insurance Charity offers financial support and practical guidance to current and former insurance professionals in the UK and Ireland.

We can transform insurance people's lives for the better by providing a lifeline to support them with whatever challenges they are facing such as:

- Poor health
- Domestic abuse
- Relationship breakdown
- Depression
- Disability
- Financial problems
- Loss of a loved one
- Redundancy

We can help people throughout their career and beyond with one-off or ongoing financial support for as long as it's needed.

Last year we awarded almost £700k to those experiencing financial hardship to help pay for things such as household appliances, rehabilitation, property adaptations and day-to-day essential costs.

We don't just offer financial support. We can offer practical guidance too, which could include signposting you to other organisations such as specialist charities, or helping you improve your money management.

If you've worked in insurance and experienced hardship you and any dependants may be eligible for help.

"I have been made to feel seen, heard, valued and understood. Thanks to The Insurance Charity, I am now able to focus more on my recovery journey, and they have granted me help beyond what I anticipated or asked for."
